PROPOSAL

A custom leadership journey for
Holland & Barrett's leadership

August 6th, 2025

FUTURES READY LEADERSHIP

Following our conversation on July 8th, we're pleased to share our proposal for the design and facilitation of a learning journey for Holland & Barrett. The journey we are proposing will enable your leadership to foster an environment where high performance will drive business results while at the same time stimulating your people to grow and develop and be ready for the future, whatever it may be.

We believe that the only way to predict the future, is to create it. Our Futures Ready approach is built on years of collaboration with global organisations and insights from hundreds of conversations with experts, scientists, and leaders. We've always worked with our clients to answer the question: how can you be ready for the futures? How can you develop a vision, a strategy, a plan that is fit for the future? And how can you develop the skills, capabilities and practices to help the people in an organisation to execute that plan while staying flexible and adaptable to the changes that will present themselves regardless.

Over the years we've helped companies develop vision and strategy. And we've helped them and various large corporates to translate their vision and strategic plans into (new) behaviours and tangible actions to drive change in their organisations. The combination of these two abilities sets us apart: we don't just focus on the plans, we don't just focus on the people: we combine the two to help our clients be most effective for the future(s) that might emerge. With a newly appointed MT in your company, changes in internal dynamics and a rapidly growing business, you are in the midst of change, and it affects everyone. The question is what this means for the role of leadership in the organisation; how to lead teams with purpose, foster psychological safety, and co-create a high-performing culture to stay successful in the future.

To be ready and anticipate these types of changes, we propose a twofold approach. First we will explore the future together with the MT to construct a vision on the most relevant aspects to stay successful and construct a cohesive plan to engage the organisation. Second, we will develop an approach, together with the MT, to translate this vision into behaviours and action for the leaders and people in your organisation. That is what will create the culture that fits the future and will help to build a high performing company that is ready for any possibility.

On the next pages, we will explain this set-up and sketch out the potential for a programme. We would like to discuss this proposal in detail in a next conversation. A full blue print of the learning journey can only be established in co-creation with you. Together with you, we will define key outcomes, and shape an experience that delivers meaningful results. We would be delighted to take this next step with you and make history by changing the future.

ARE YOU FUTURES ~~PROOF?~~ ^{READY!}

WHY WE DO WHAT WE DO

WE HELP YOUR ORGANISATION BE FUTURES READY

PLANS DON'T CREATE CHANGE, PEOPLE DO

In a rapidly changing world, it is essential for organisations to develop strategic plans that are adaptive enough to bring their envisioned future to life. But having a plan alone is not enough. To turn plans into action, the people within your organisation are crucial. They need to understand what the strategy means, grasp the “why” behind it, and make it their own. When your people are able to translate the business plans into their daily practice, it becomes possible to spread those plans, ideas, and new behaviours throughout all levels of the organisation, and to remain successful in the future.

A CUSTOMISED AND CO-DESIGNED PROGRAMME FOR CHANGE

We help teams and organisations develop practical skills to navigate these types of changes successfully and shape the future. We do this in customised programmes that originate from an inventory of 7 practices that we've seen surface over many years in most companies as essential skills to be ready for the future. This inventory is an effective starting point for a co-design process to identify what is needed for your specific question.

STRATEGY AND PEOPLE FOR HOLLAND & BARRETT

For phase 1 of your RFP we will first develop a vision together with the MT on what a high performing culture means in light of a changing world. That will lead to a strategic plan with described behaviours, attitudes and practices for the team itself and for groups A & B in phase 2 and 3.

We combine strategic foresight with personal growth that delivers a learning journey that inspires people and drives bottom line impact.

A FUTURES READY LEARNING JOURNEY

AN INVENTORY OF 7 PRACTICES FOR CHANGE

7 PRACTICES FOR 21ST CENTURY LEADERS

There are many possibilities of how the future might unfold, until one of those possibilities manifests itself in the present. That's why we always talk about the future in the plural sense. Based on over 25 years of research and experience, and hundreds of conversations and collaborations with scientists, experts, academics, and leading professionals, we have developed 7 practices for 21st-century leaders that will prepare you for all these possibilities and will help you to understand what this means for your people.

FUTURES READINESS FRAMEWORK AND TOOLBOX

The 7 practices together form the Futures Readiness Framework, which we use as a starting point for designing our programs. Co-creation is in our DNA: we always design our programs together with our clients. That's why no program is ever the same, even though we draw from the same 'futures readiness' toolbox.

HOLLAND & BARRETT'S CUSTOM JOURNEY

For H&B such a journey starts with the Management Team by developing a vision and actionable strategy to create a high-performing culture and to lead this change by example. Based on these insights, we co-design with your MT an approach for the A&B managers to drive this culture. This will be a custom learning journey that focuses on learning by doing: one that will get them straight into action.

INVENTORY OF 7 PRACTICES

FUTURES READINESS FRAMEWORK

Understand how change unfolds and what impact it has on people, society and businesses. You'll learn practical tools to better process the effects of future trends and developments.

The only way to predict the future is to create it, step by step. How can you develop your own vision and develop a plan that not only gets you moving, but inspires everyone to take action?

A process for innovation. Designing your future business, services, products and ways of working with the human in mind. Creating small experiments to test and learn your innovation ideas.

Every change impacts everyone in a team or organisation. This means you need to develop the skills to build adaptive teams and confidently lead them through change and uncertainty without losing effectiveness.

If the world is constantly changing, why do we stop learning? Every new situation creates new opportunities. You learn how to respond to change with a growth mindset and embrace change.

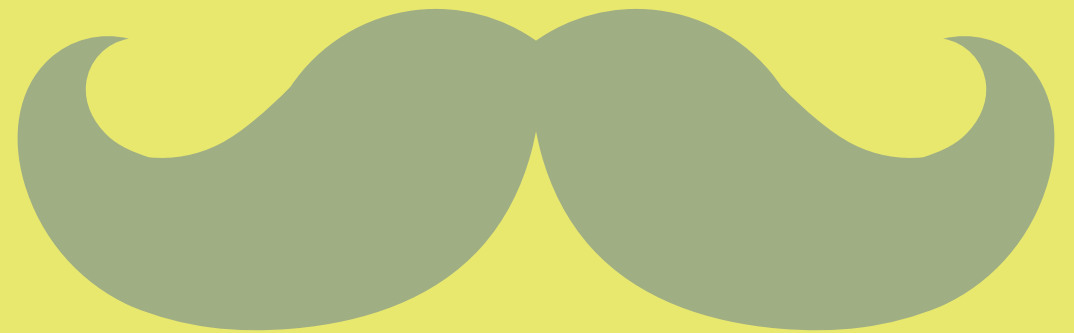

How to bring your stakeholders on board? By creating an effective storyline and designing meetings/gatherings that have impact you will learn to facilitate change. This helps you to effectively coach others through change.

Having a clear overview of the context in which change takes place - and in which you want to shape the future (the team, the organisation, the outside world) - gives insight into the level of intervention that will be most impactful.

SKETCH OF A POTENTIAL PROGRAMME

OUR APPROACHOUR DESIGN PRINCIPLES

We are challengers and strategic thinkers with many years of leadership and business experience.

We reason from a future perspective and apply futures thinking to anticipate change.

We are people and behaviour oriented to ensure action is taken and plans can be executed.

We apply the power of storytelling to involve all stakeholders in change.

We design experiences to make learning engaging and have a lasting impact.

OUR APPROACH

PROGRAMME BUILD-UP

PROGRAMME BUILDING BLOCKS

The Holland & Barrett Futures Ready Programme is segmented into 2 different steps. The first step is targeted at the MT (group C) and aims to co-design an approach to build a High Performing Culture that will serve as the vehicle to tackle the challenges at hand: your phase 1 from the RFP.

The second step is then targeted at managers in groups A and B. They will be coached by leaders of the MT and us while they activate the vision for a Futures Ready BNL and foster their cultural vision in a learning journey that matches the 7 practice with your defined behaviours: your phase 2 and 3 from the RFP.

All steps in this program are a combination of the following elements:

- Live session: Working hands-on and learning new tools or methods while reflecting together on the process.
- Journalling & self-study: Practicing skills and reflecting on personal learnings, supported by the online Futures Academy.
- Coaching: throughout the programme we'll reflect on the progress participants are making individually. We challenge the participants to look beyond their daily routines and encourage them to do what they said they would do.

- Intervision: for groups A&B we will design a guided intervention approach that will challenge them as well and will allow them to learn together to grow and develop.

We continuously evaluate both the process and the participants' development. We learn from these insights and adjust the program for both the MT and AB-levels as needed.

MEASURABLE RESULTS

Throughout the programme we ask the participants to harvest their learnings based on the learning needs on various levels: leading self, leading others and leading the business while also documenting tangible results in the business.

- Pre- and post-assessment: Futures Ready Scans.
- Self-reflection: we'll provide a journalling framework to effectively harvest their learning progress.
- Experiments, learnings and results: managers and team leads will conduct their own practical experiments with real life cases. We'll predominantly measure the effect on learning.
- Trend Radar: continuously tracking trends that impact the business
- Stories for Change: harvesting the stories being told internally

PHASE 1

MANAGEMENT TEAM

OUR APPROACH

PROGRAMME SET-UP: PHASE 1

1. FUTURES READY SCAN (INDIVIDUAL)

In preparation for Phase 1 we will ask the Management Team (C-level, 7 managers) to complete our Futures Ready Scan. The results of this scan will be used in intake calls with each of them. This gives us a good sense of where the learning needs lie for their own leadership, that of their team leads (AB-level managers) and where they see the biggest challenges for the organisation. We will use this framework to measure the impact of the programme on the organisation and its people.

2. VISION ON H&B'S HIGH PERFORMING CULTURE (2 DAYS)

(futures thinking, strategic thinking, working culture, facilitate change, learning mindset)

High Performing Cultures have to operate in the rapidly changing context of a volatile, uncertain, complex and ambiguous world. How do you set direction for your team in such an environment and sketch the bigger picture? How do you build the trust, create the engagement and the commitment to act effectively towards the organisation's ambitions and goals? In this strategic session of the phase 1 programme we will develop a vision on the future of Holland & Barrett BNL to assess what a high performing culture should look like, translated into an actionable strategic document the team commits on.

We will translate these insights into personal leadership development journeys and will sketch out the activation of this vision for the wider organisation in a program design for phase 2 and 3.

3. FROM CONFLICT TO RESULTS (1 DAY)

(working culture, driving impact, facilitate change)

Following the initial development of a vision and the activation plan to create a high performing culture for H&B in this second session of the programme we will practice with building trust to stimulate the team to openly voice their opinions and insights without getting trapped in every voice counting as a vote (agree to disagree). Effective leaders lead by example and are aware of how they behave themselves. This session is meant to get from the abstract to the practical application of being high performing leaders.

4. DESIGNING LEADERSHIP EXPERIMENTS FOR CHANGE (1 DAY)

(design thinking, facilitate change, learning mindset, driving impact)

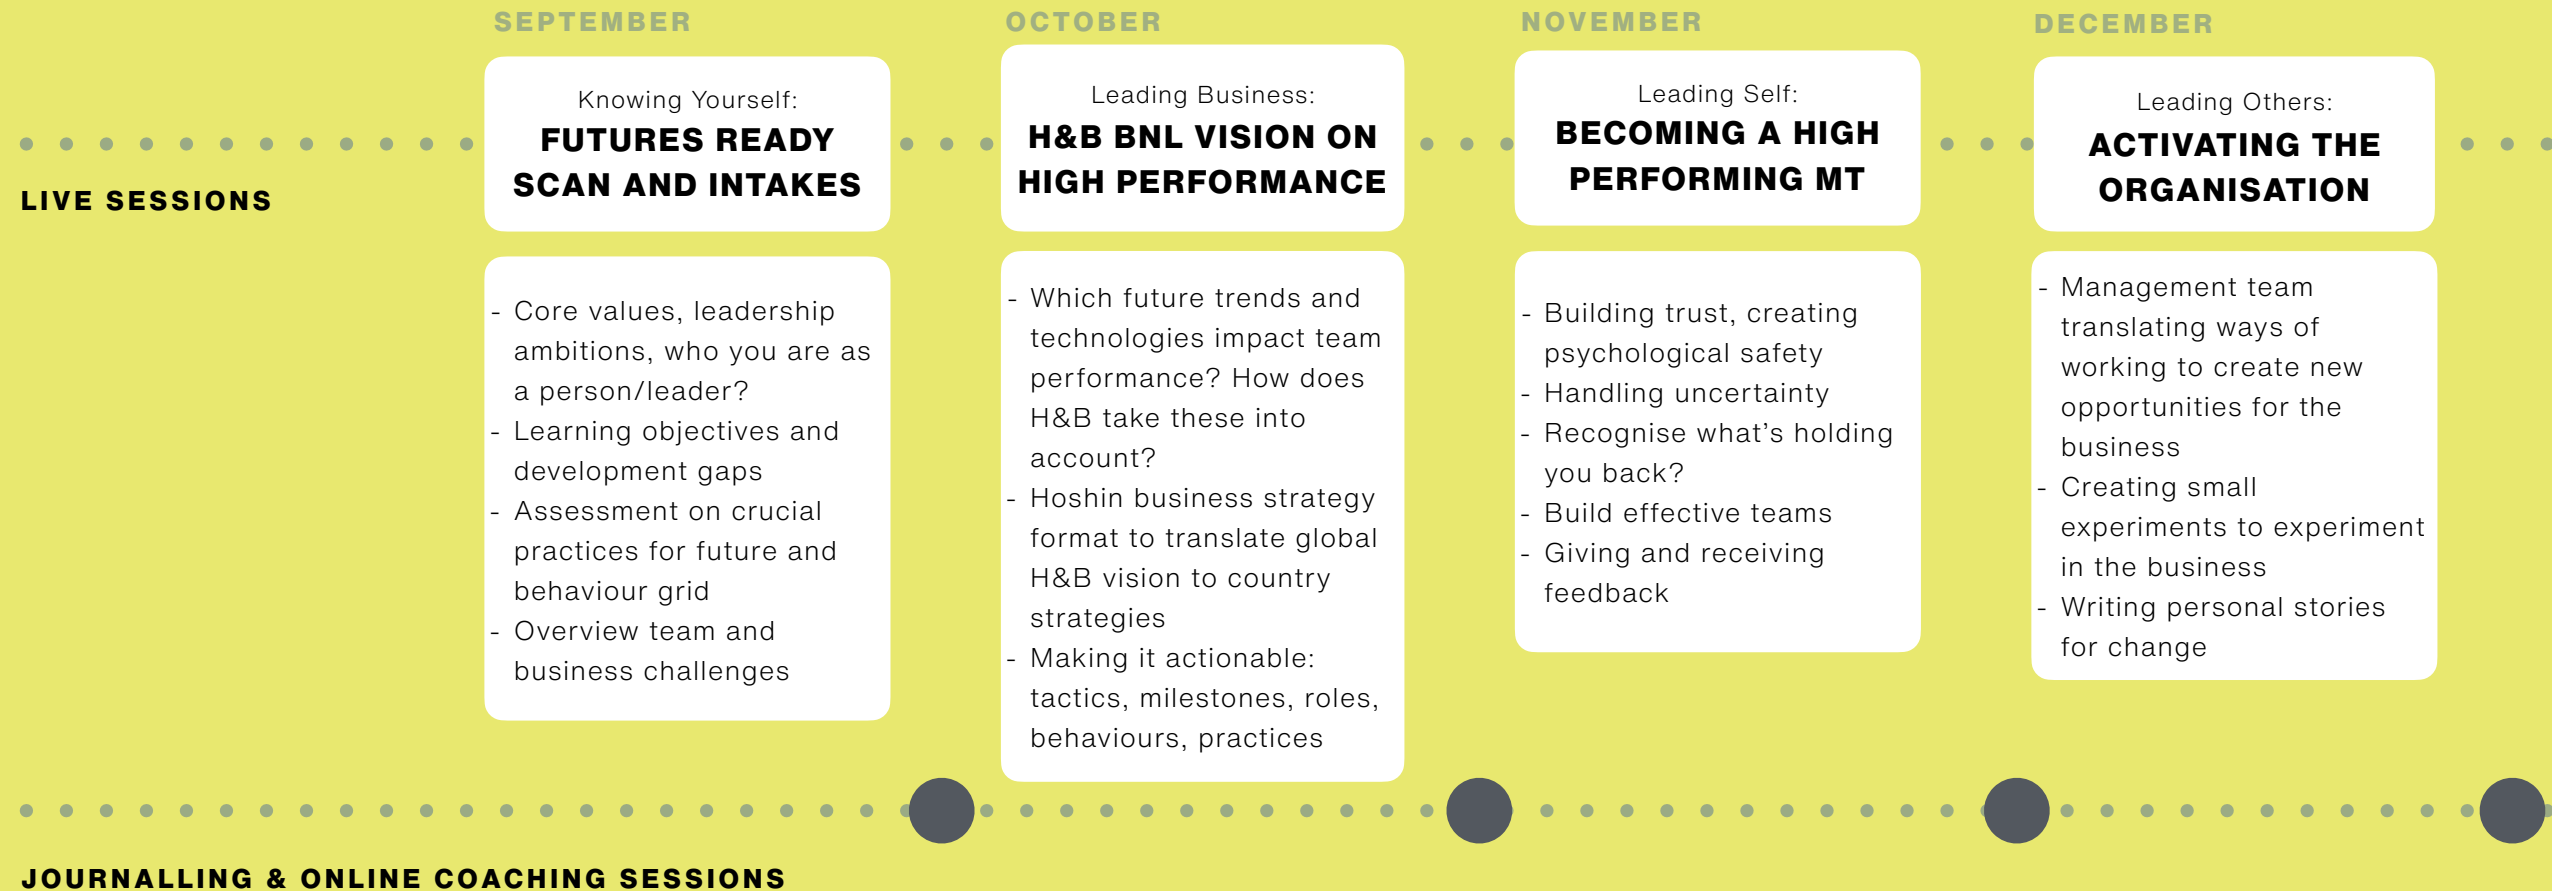

Plans don't change an organisation, people do. In this session we will translate all the learnings in practical applications that will drive impact in the organisation. This means that each leader will shift focus to design experiments that will help their teams to apply the vision of a high performing culture into their work. Moreover we will work on how to communicate effectively and share vision, plan and learnings throughout the organisation with the goal to effectively lead others through change.

5. COACHING WITH SPARRING PARTNERS (ONGOING)

All chapters in this programme are supported with continuous coaching with certified coaches and practices on the job.

AB LEVEL MANAGERS

PROGRAMME BUILD-UP

PROGRAMME SET-UP: PHASE 2+3

1. PROGRAMME DESIGN

Following phase 1, the MT has developed a clear vision and actionable strategy to build a high-performing culture. This foundation now guides the design of the phase 2 learning journey for AB-level leaders.

To ensure alignment and continuity, this programme will build on the language, tools, and mindset introduced in phase 1. In preparation, all participants will complete the Futures Ready Scan and formulate a personal learning question. This, together with the behaviour grid, helps us identify shared development needs and serves as a pre-assessment to track growth throughout the journey and measure results.

2. PROGRAMME SET-UP

Based on our insights from phase 1 and the collective pre-assessment, we select which of the 7 practices of the Futures Readiness Framework to focus on and match it with your behaviour grid. These practices shape the learning journey which we will design in co-creation with you and the MT. The exact content of the programme is determined based on all insights from phase 1 and co-created with the MT members.

Each selected practice includes

- Live session: A plenary, hands-on session introducing new tools, frameworks or methods, with space to apply them to real challenges and reflect together.

- Self-study: Participants run experiments, apply tools, and reflect on outcomes via guided assignments, supported by the online Futures Academy.
- Intervision: We teach the Intervision method as a peer learning format to reflect, challenge assumptions, and build accountability. Initially guided by us, these sessions can eventually be facilitated by participants themselves or under the guidance of MT members.

2. IMPACT AND RESULTS

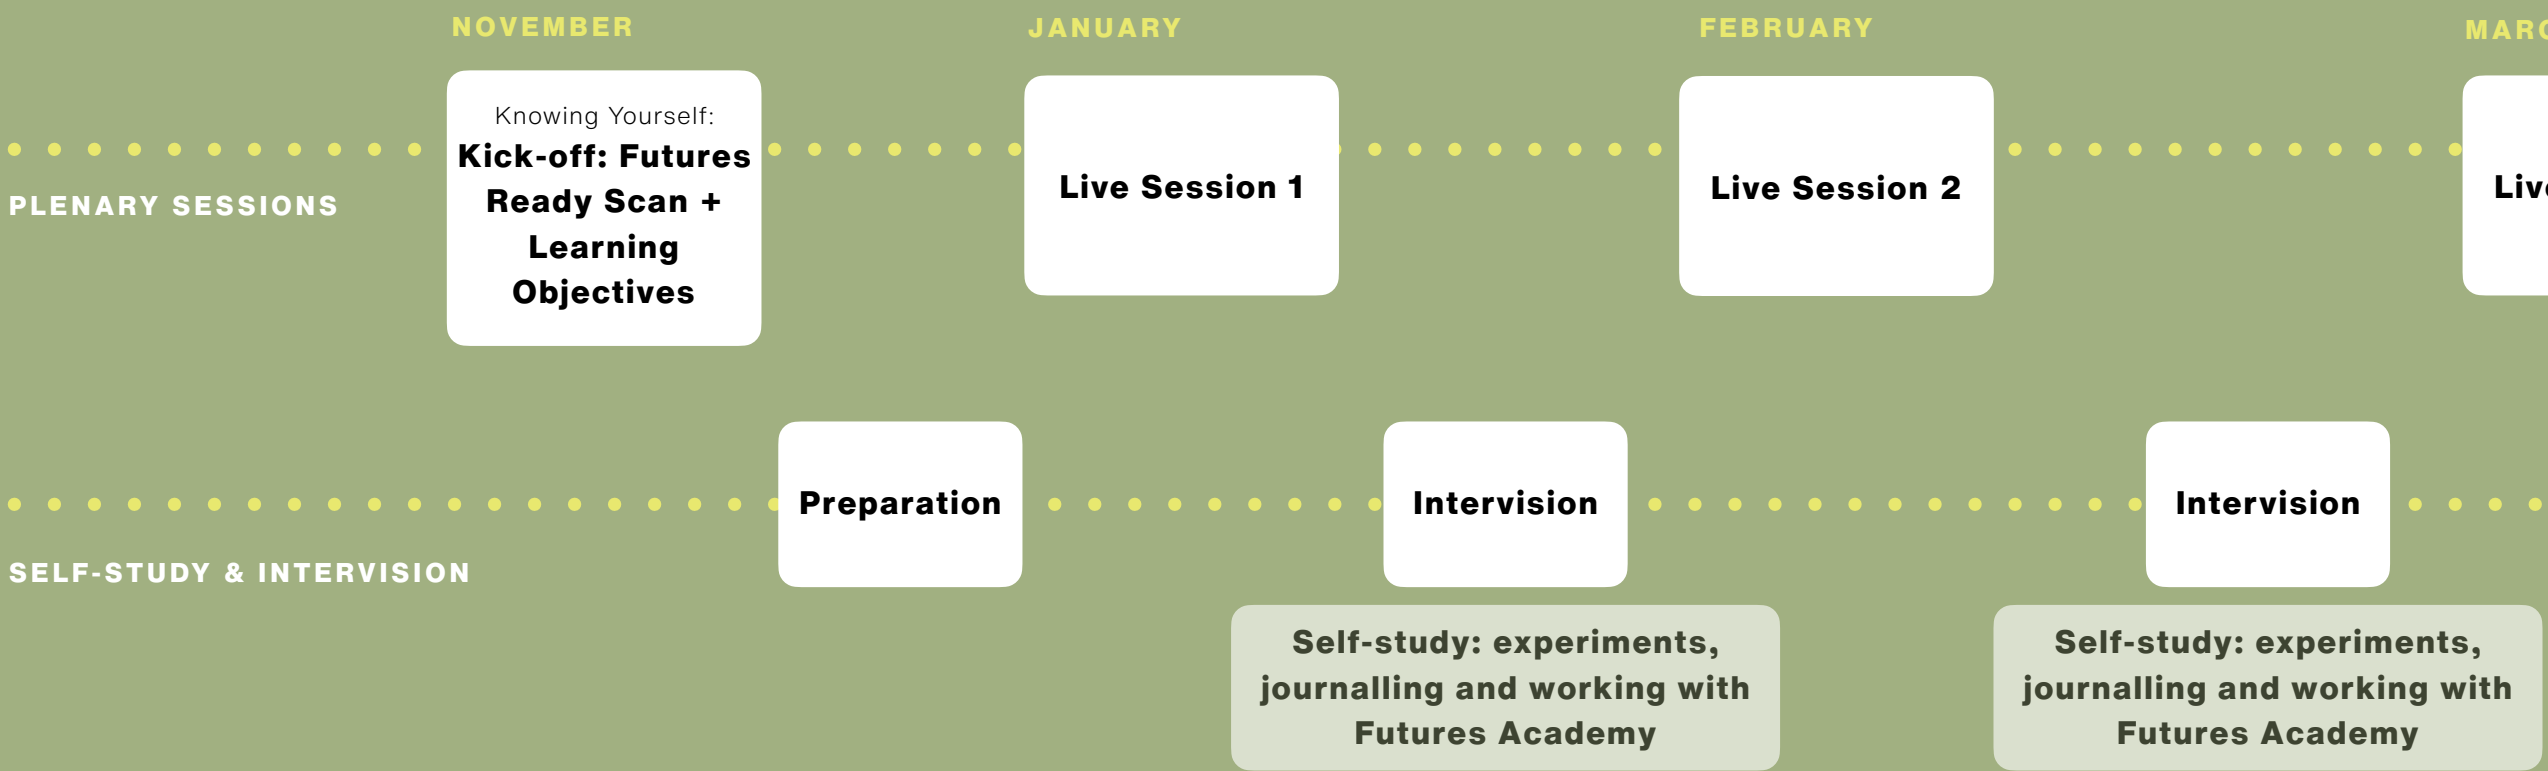

We continuously track and reflect on progress throughout the programme to ensure it stays aligned with participants' learning needs and the overarching strategic goals. If needed, we iterate the design based on what we learn along the way.

To measure impact:

- The Futures Ready Scan is repeated as a post-assessment after each practice to track individual and collective growth.
- We harvest and share the outcomes of experiments, tool applications, and personal learning journeys to capture insights and evaluate effectiveness.
- Upon request, we can deliver a harvest & impact report summarising all key learnings, outcomes, and recommendations for further development.

THAT’S WHY WE BELIEVE IN EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING:

HOW WE DEVELOP PEOPLE

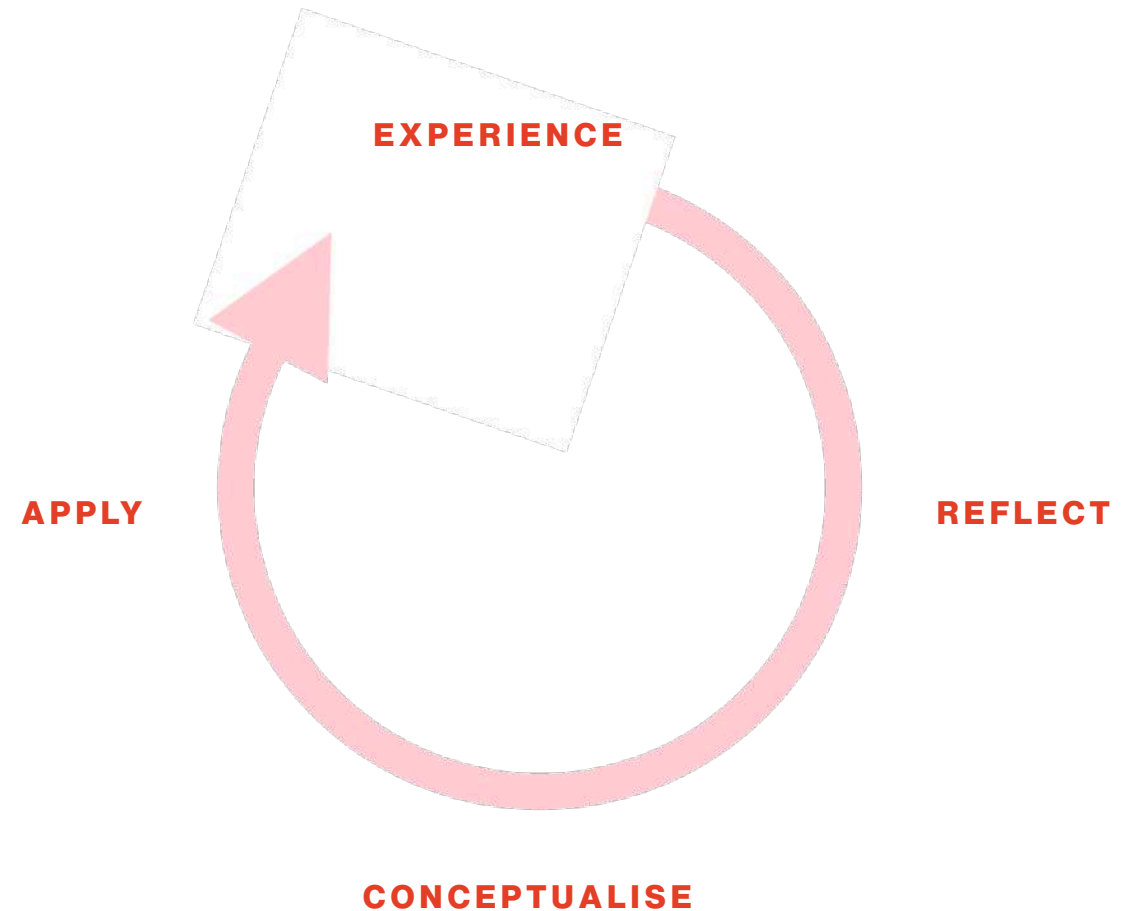

A CUSTOM LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Learning happens through doing, reflecting and applying. By using storytelling, learning and experience design, our programmes are learning experiences that are customary designed to fit your organisation's context, group size and learning goals.

LEARNING BY DOING

We make use of Kolb's learning cycle and self-efficacy to design journeys that are personal, engaging and transformative. You first experience something and reflect on it. We then translate insights to clear actions, which you then apply in your daily practice by formulating experiments. Then the cycle repeats; you execute your experiment, reflect on it, learn from it, and apply new insights. These new practices will lead to new habits.

All these interventions throughout the programme will lead to a shift in leadership and culture. This method helps to strengthen the connection between theory and practice, and ultimately to actively shape a culture of continuous learning throughout all levels of the organisation.

HOW WE DEVELOP PEOPLE

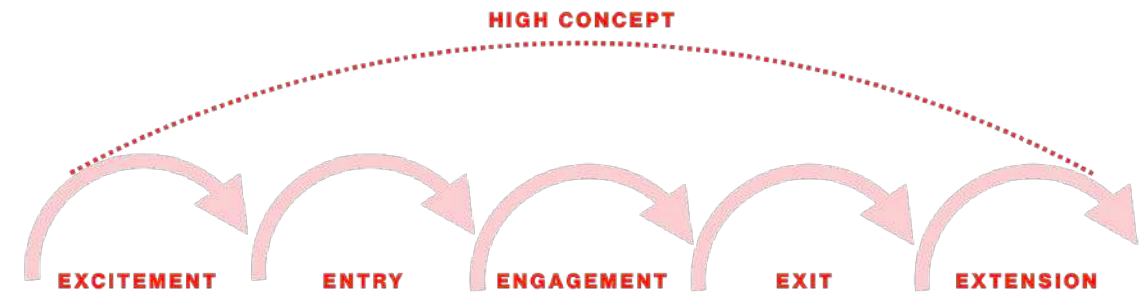

A CUSTOM LEARNING JOURNEY

Out of all programme elements we create one learning journey. By applying experience design and storytelling we create an experience where you are in the driver's seat of your development.

ENGAGEMENT THROUGHOUT THE JOURNEY

Especially when in online sessions or periods of self-study, engaging participants is essential for the impact of the programme. By designing a learning experience, you create a level playing field and common language to create one learning team, you get them to action and stimulate creativity.

By using different learning methods with gamification, online challenges, feedback tools, but also by choosing session locations and the way we communicate, we create a unique and interesting learning environment. We connect all elements in one big learning experience, which starts before the first session, and ends by passing on the torch to the participants at the end of our plenary sessions.

5E EXPERIENCE MODEL

HOW WE DEVELOP PEOPLE

IN PRACTICE

We design learning experiences with the individual at the center. That starts with crafting the right environment - both physical and psychological - for learning to take place. We carefully select working methods and structure them into one coherent narrative flow, so every activity builds on the last. Throughout the journey, we bring in a mix of facilitators and field experts to offer diverse perspectives and challenge your thinking from different angles.

HOW WE DEVELOP PEOPLE

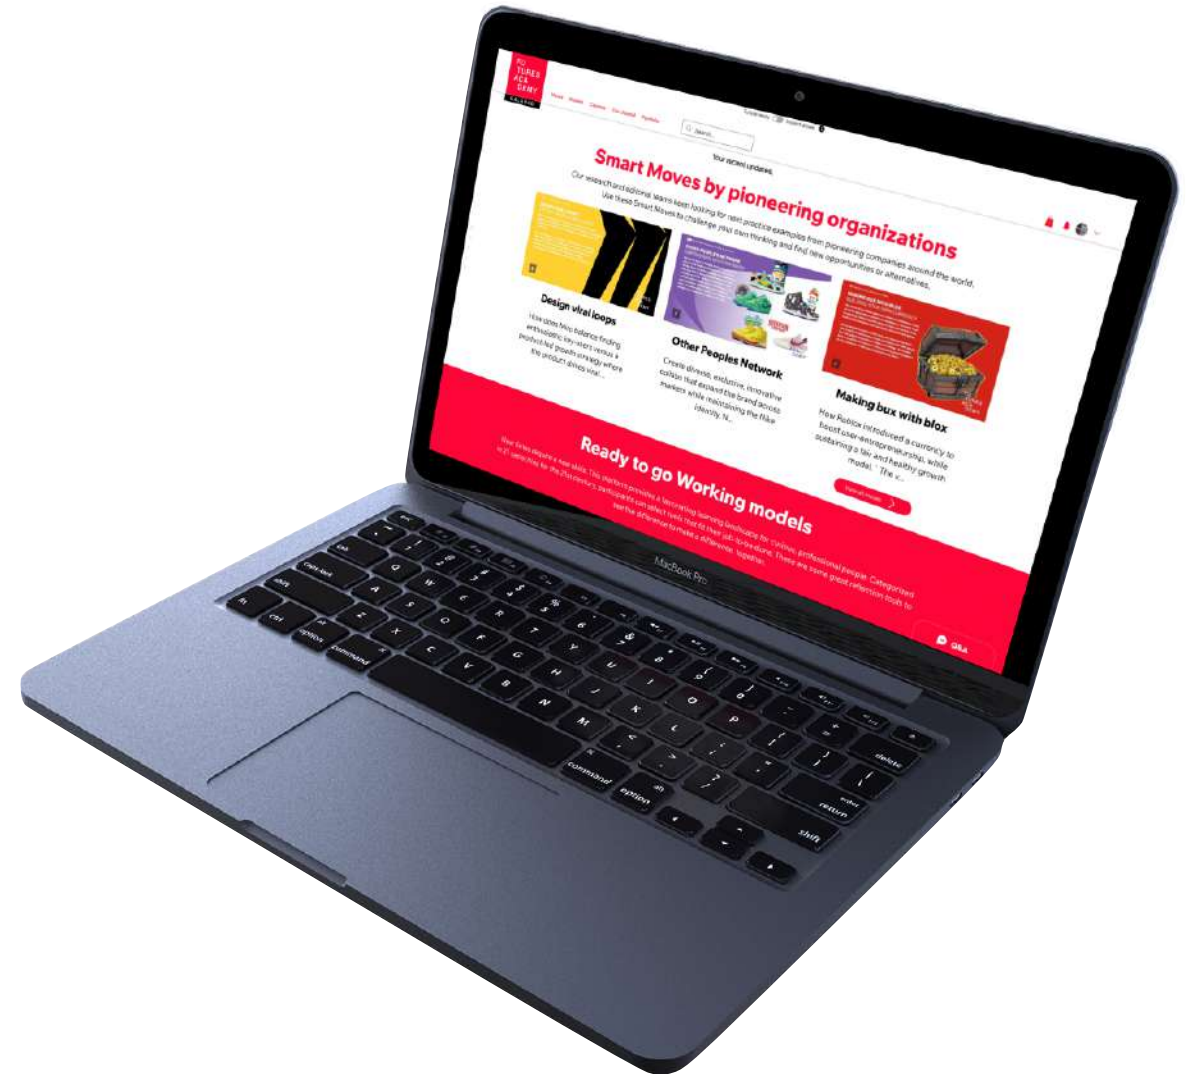

MINKOWSKI'S FUTURES ACADEMY

Because the future is unpredictable, the ability to develop, experiment, and learn quickly is one of the most crucial skills of the 21st century. This requires a new mindset, skillset, and toolset.

The Futures Academy is an online platform to enhance the learning cycle during our programmes. This ensures that the value of our training extends beyond the moments we meet in person, encouraging participants to actively further develop their capabilities on a day to day basis. By doing this, we transform newly gained insights into new habits and behaviours. The Futures Academy also offers a wide range of inspiring Smart Moves by pioneering organisations to broaden your perspective.

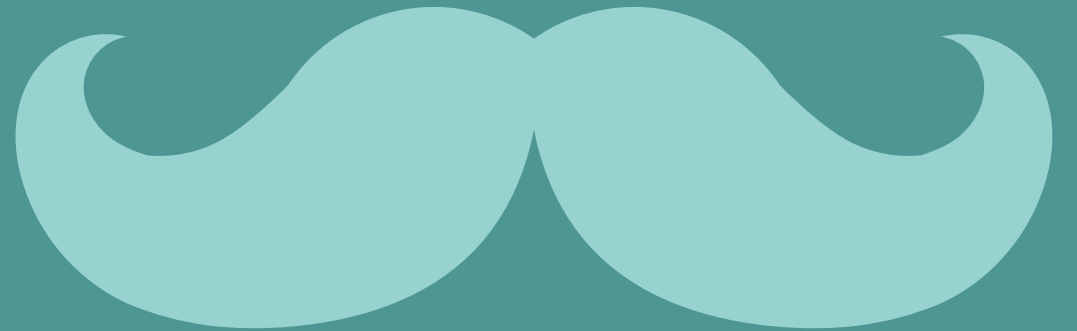

Participants get access to the Futures Academy throughout the programme. They can access and download all tools, methods and theory to actively practice with their insights.

* Upon request: integration of materials on your own platform. Additional costs apply.

WHO WE ARE

WE HELP YOU SHAPE YOUR DESIRED FUTURES

We are inspired by the work of Hermann Minkowski, one of Albert Einstein's teachers. That's how we see our role too: as facilitators and coaches who help you build a better future. Our ambition is to enable one million Einsteins to make history by changing the future - and in doing so, make the world a little better.

Our facilitators are experienced professionals from the business world who help people within organisations translate a desired future into action. We don't do this for you, but with you. We equip individuals and organisations with the skills, tools, and mindset to be ready for the future. Co-creation, futures thinking, and storytelling are core building blocks of our DNA.

Since our founding in 2017, we have grown rapidly into a globally operating specialist in applied futures. We have a strong track record of working with a wide range of organisations, designing and facilitating countless programmes, processes, sessions, management retreats, brainstorming, deep dives, workshops, and trainings in the areas of vision, strategy, and leadership.

WHO WE ARE

HOW WE HELPED THEM

UNCOVERING FUTURES PROGRAMME - NN GROUP

At this point in time, over 250 senior leaders within NN Group have concluded the NN Uncovering Futures programme. The aim is to institutionalise a futures ready mindset and futures ready behaviours throughout the entire NN Group. This programme is a combination of online sessions, a multi-day live session and online peer Intervisions. The programme is facilitated by different facilitators and credited coaches to deepen their learnings.

EYEWISH AQUISITION STRATEGY - BRILMIJ

For the holding company of the Eyewish brand we designed a programme to develop a vision for the future of Eyewish with the aim to help in the sale of the company to a third party. Together with the MT we delivered a vision, strategy and sales plan within 3 months. The programme was facilitated with face-to-face as well as online sessions fully supported by an online platform for collaboration, that we have since developed into the Futures Academy platform.

BRUNEL LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT PROGRAMME

From 2021 onwards, we have facilitated multiple cohorts of participants of the Brunel Leadership Development Programme. The aim of the programme is to connect leaders to the Brunel strategy: how do you translate strategy into action and take others along, and what does it ask of me as a leader and a person? This programme consists of 3 Modules of 3 live-day plenary sessions, backed by online peer Intervisions, 3-way conversations with their managers, and individual coaching.

STRATEGY ENGAGEMENT PROGRAMME - STHREE

The SThree recruiter consists of 7 go to market brands that had always competed against each other. We helped them to develop the strategic plan that would enable behavioural change from all employees to better collaborate. In order to segment their markets we helped each of the brands to define their brand proposition and helped them translate this into plans for action. The overall strategic plan then became the synergy between all.
